

Short Curriculum Vitae of Ulf Meyer

Professional:

2008	Partner in the architecture office of Ingenhoven Architects in Duesseldorf/Germany
1997-present	Author and journalist in the field of architecture and urban design
2006 and 2007	FuturArc Forum for Green Building in Southeast-Asia and Australia
2004	Three months residence in Berkeley/California as visiting journalist (architectural critic) with the "San Francisco Chronicle" as part of the Arthur-F.-Burns-Fellowship for young journalists
2003-2007	Editor at „BauNetz“ Online News for Architects in Berlin
2001/2002	Seven months residence in Tokyo/Japan with Shigeru Ban Architects as scholar of the Nippon-Carl-Duisberg-Society's Fellowship in Tokyo
2000-2002	Correspondent for Central Europe for „World Architecture“ magazine, London, UK
1999/2000	Editor at „archplus“ architectural magazine in Berlin

Education:

1996	Graduation from Technical University (TU) of Berlin as master of architecture
1993/94	Study-abroad at the Illinois Institute of Technology (IIT) in Chicago, Ill. with the international IIT Fellowship and the Academic scholarship of the Federal Republic of Germany

Personal:

July 1970	Born in West-Berlin/Germany
June 2004	Marriage with flutist Mao Ide from Tokyo/Japan
August 2008	Birth of daughter Dana

Hobbies: Swimming and traveling
Languages: German: native, English: very good, French: good,
Spanish and Japanese: basic

Books written:

- „Capital City Berlin“, Jovis Publishers, Berlin 1999
- „The Chinese City“, Jovis Publishers, Berlin 2000
- „Bauhaus Architecture“, Prestel Publishers, Munich 2001
- „Cities of the Pacific Century – reports and essays from East-Asia“, Braun Publishers, Berlin 2004
- „Sublime creation“, Junius Publishers, Hamburg, 2005
- „LX - architecture from the heart of Europe“, DOM Publishers, Berlin, 2008
- plus contributions to over 20 other books
- currently working on: „The 222 most interesting buildings of Tokyo“, DOM Publishers, Berlin, 2009

Curator of architectural exhibitions:

- „in/from China: art + architecture“ at the Asian Fine Arts Factory, Berlin/Germany
 - „Tu Mu - young architecture from China“ at Aedes Gallery in Berlin/Germany and MADA Gallery in Shanghai/China
- and
- „Made in Berlin“ at the NAI in Rotterdam/Netherlands

Lecture activities and teaching experience:

Ulf Meyer has lectured extensively at universities and cultural centers in Europe, the USA and Canada as well as Japan, China, Belgium, Norway,

Hungary, the Netherlands, Singapore, Australia, Malaysia, Italy, the Philippines and Taiwan.

He has taught at the Bauhaus Graduate School of Design in Dessau/Germany and at summer schools with the Middle Eastern Technical University of Ankara/Turkey, the Georgia Institute of Technology of Atlanta/Georgia, the Rice Design Alliance of Houston/Texas and the University of Kansas Lawrence/Kansas (USA).

Publications:

Ulf Meyer has published over 1.000 articles in newspapers and magazines in Germany and abroad. He appeared on Radio, TV and Internet broadcast. Some of his texts have been translated into Spanish, Italian, Russian, Dutch and English.